

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

WHY do we offer this service?

Over the years we have found that many of our clients are looking for qualified individuals to fill internal roles at a capacity greater than a typical consultant role, yet less than a full-time employee. This program fits that need. Our experience has shown that many of our clients, being diligent in their personnel hiring practices, are not always able to find the qualified individual within a reasonable time. In addition, we have found that some clients have short-term needs, which do not require full time employment. These needs can be satisfied with Interim Quality Professionals.

WHO is a typical client?

Any company in the Medical Device and Pharmaceutical industries can utilize this service.

WHO are the QualityHub IQP professionals?

These associates are qualified senior level ex-FDA and Industry consultants hand-picked by QualityHub. They have been screened based on their previous positions, experience, and their level of expertise in a specific area. They are seasoned experts in devices, bio-pharm, engineering, etc... many are well qualified with years of experience managing other quality professionals.

WHAT makes this service different from a headhunter service?

This program is not meant to take the place of a headhunter's job. An IQP is utilized to fill a roll in the interim period while a headhunter is locating the new 'full time' employee. In other situations, where there is not an expectation or need to hire a full-time employee or manager, our IQP professionals could assist in temporarily filling a role until the situation or need is rectified.

WHAT makes this program most appealing?

The IQP program allows a client to utilize seasoned and senior level industry experts without the full-time commitment usually required of such expertise. Typically, a full-time employment commitment requires a company to provide salary, benefits, some federal taxes, insurance and retirement responsibilities. Hiring through the QualityHub IQP program eliminates those
